FRONT— NOT GUILTY AGAIN

■Arson: The NF blamed again

ON AUGUST 10th last year a house in which 14 Asians were living in Shortland Road, Leyton was burnt to the ground.

Community leaders, Labour Councillors and every one of Britain's multitude of ethnic pressure groups blamed National Front members for the attack.

With newspaper headlines screaming of National Front involvement, throughout August and September anti-National Front demonstrations and marches were organised to draw the public's attention to this alleged example of 'NF' violence'.

JAILED

On October 7th this year 57 year old Pakistani Gustasab Khan Abbassi was jailed for nine years for burning down the house in Shortland Road, Leyton.

In an unprecedented statement released after the trial the police admitted; ⋆that they knew from the very first day of their investigations that the National Front was no way involved.
⋆that they were always looking for Abbasi who had lived in the house.
⋆that Asian leaders knew the fire was not caused by a racial attack yet they still organised marches saying it was!

WHY?

The FLAG wants to know why....
●Anti-National Front demonstrations were allowed by the police to take place when both they and the authorities knew that the NF was not involved?
The FLAG wants to know why....
●Tax payers money was wasted on policing demonstrations that should never have been allowed to take place?
The FLAG wants to know why....
●With many of these demonstrations ending in violence, police officers lives were put at risk in policing marches whose sole purpose was to whip up anti-White feeling?

The case of the Leyton fire proves that the Police and the Authorities are petrified of upsetting Britain's ethnic communities, even so far as to allow an anti-White march to take place over an arson attack done by Asians on other Asians. Can you imagine such a anti-black march being allowed over say muggings in Brixton? — of course not — which just goes to confirm, in Britain today there is one law for the white community and another for the Privileged Class of Coloured Immigrants!

■Getting all worked up claiming a racial attack when both the Police and Community Leaders knew it was no such thing.

SOCCER VIOLENCE INQUIRY: OFFICER DISCIPLINED

POLICE SAY "SORRY NF"

'The Assistant Commissioner has asked us to convey to you his apologies for the failure of the police service to reach the high standard expected of the force on this occasion'.

Police Complaints Authority.

THE METROPOLITAN POLICE have apologised to the National Front for wrongfully associating the party with football violence.

For the second time in less than 12 months Fleet Street's front page stories linking the National Front with soccer violence have been proved to be a tissue of lies.

In May of last year, for three days newspapers, television and radio, without a shred of evidence, reported that the National Front was involved with the tragic events at the Heysel Stadium in Brussels.

Two months later after an exhaustive investigation Liverpool Police issued a statement saying,
'There is no evidence whatsoever to link the National Front or any of its members with the events at the Heysel Stadium'.

OWN GOAL

In March of this year again newspaper front pages headlined the NF's alleged involvement with soccer violence after the Metropolitan Police's dawn raids to arrest alleged soccer thugs in an operation code-named 'Own Goal'.

A press statement from Scotland Yard's Director of Public Affairs claimed that together with a horrific cache of weapons, 'large quantities of National Front literature were seized' —THIS WAS A LIE.

The 'vast quantities' turned out to be a handful of copies of National Front News that were three years old! and the personal collection of one of those arrested.

MEDIA LIES EXPOSED

"The Assistant Commissioner fully accepts that the first press releases issued by the police inadvertently associated your party with soccer violence when there was no evidence to support this view".

Issued by
The Police Complaints Authority
10, Great George Street,
LONDON SW1P 3AB.
13th October 1986

In a letter to former NF Chairman and FLAG Editor, Martin Wingfield, the Police Complaints Authority states..

'The Assistant Commisioner fully accepts that the first press releases issued by the police inadvertently associated your party with soccer violence when there was no evidence to support this view'.

The letter goes on to state that the police officer with overall responsibility for the untruthful press release had been disciplined by his commander and the civilian press officer who actually released the statement reprimanded by the Director of Public Affairs.

The letter finishes, 'The Assistant Commissioner has asked us to convey to you his apologies for the failure of the Police Service to reach the high standard expected of the force on this occasion'.

So we are proved innocent yet again. After years of being bullied by the media and the establishment alike the National Front is now fighting back, defending its reputation and the reputation of its members.

CALIBRE

The calibre of the National Front is being proved again and again. The vilification and hatred whipped up against the Front by our enemies would have sent many a political party running for cover, but not the NF. We have stood firm and proclaimed our innocence and now this has been proved to be the case.

Such character gives us the credentials to represent the British people in the battle to win back our country, a political party that against all the odds was prepared to stand up and defend truth and honour!

KILLER GOES FREE

A SUSPECTED KILLER was allowed to go free because senior police officers were scared of setting of a street riot.

Officers were ordered not to arrest the man who was drinking in a wine bar in Brixton's Front Line.

An angry detective told the London Evening Standard "It was an absolutely diabolical decision. They are so scared of starting a riot here they won't do anything.

Who says there aren't No-Go areas in Brixton? It is a sad day when the Police let a killer go free. I don't think morale in the force can get any lower".

NO-GO AREAS

OFFICERS OF the Metropolitan Police have revealed in a BBC TV programme that 'No-Go' areas for the police exist in London.

They said that they were forced to turn a blind eye to drug taking, ignore robberies and muggings, and not make arrests if it would cause a disturbance in areas like Brixton because senior officers did not want to provoke a riot situation.

Commissioner Sir Kenneth Newman admitted that there were 'different styles of policing'.

MUGGINGS

MUGGINGS IN London rose by 17% and sexual offences by 10% in the first nine months of this year according to Metropolitan Police figures.

RACIST ATTACK

TWO BLACK muggers threw a six month Asian baby over a 4ft wall after the mother refused to let go of her handbag. The baby escaped with minor head injuries.

NEW BRITONS?

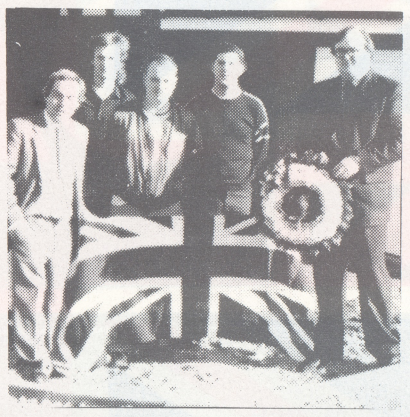
HIGH FLIERS

PAY RISES for executives are running well ahead of inflation, with many getting 20 per cent increases or more. This was the findings of a survey published in October.

The figures produced by Inbucon, the management consultants, showed that increases in the year ending last July averaged 9 per cent, taking the typical executive's salary to £24,370-a-year before bonuses.

This survey shows yet again that while firms encourage pay restraint on the shop floor the same principle does not apply in the executive suite. The work force suffers poor wage rises — and even pay cuts and redundancy — as the high fliers of industry are lining their own pockets with glee.



LOCAL BRANCH UNVEILS BLAKELOCK CROFT.

BIRMINGHAM FIGHTS BACK!

BIRMINGHAM NATIONAL FRONT took the law into their own hands on Sunday 2nd November and perpetrated an illegal act.

It was however, an illegal act that would meet with the fullest approval of the British people.

Birmingham NF named one of the roads of a housing estate off Stanmore Road, Edgbaston, Blakelock Croft in memory of P.C. Keith Blakelock who was hacked to death by rioters on the Broadwater Farm Estate.

The action was a protest at the decision of Labour councillors to name two roads in the city after Asian politicians. One is to be called Sardal Drive after a former chairman of Birmingham's Race Relations Committee, Sardal Marwa, and the other Jagmohan Joshi Croft after a former secretary of the Indian Workers Association who collapsed and died during a demonstration against immigration laws.

APPROPRIATE

Norman Tompkinson, treasurer of Birmingham National Front told the Birmingham Post,

"We think the idea of naming streets after Asians is ridiculous. The majority of Birmingham people will agree that Blakelock Croft is far more appropriate".

Birmingham Branch's action typifies the spirit of the National Front. How many British people are appalled by the ethnic grovelling of the Tories and Loony Left alike but do nothing except sit at home and moan.

The National Front DOES do something. The National Front fights back for Britain and the British people. The street-naming ceremony by Birmingham Branch was an act of defiance and a warning to corrupt and careerist politicians that they will not be allowed to destroy our country. It was also an act of defiance that will give great heart to the beleaguered British people of Birmingham, reassuring them that the National Front IS looking after their interests.

NF NURSE GETS AIDS ULTIMATUM

SHIRLEY 'ASHLEY' was a first year auxiliary nurse with the Richmond and Twickenham Area Health Authority.

She resigned her position after being given an ultimatum by her employers 'Look after AIDS patients or face the sack!'

Rumours that AIDS victims were being included on nurses' rounds started in September when AIDS pamphlets appeared at the William Harvey Clinic in Roehampton where nurses meet before going on their rounds.

When Shirley was given responsibilty for a 32 year-old American homosexual with AIDS she went straight to her superiors. She asked why a terminally ill foreigner was allowed to sponge off our health service. She told Mrs Marzella her section head that she had no wish to look after homosexuals let alone foreign ones with a killer disease.

Shirley was sent to see the head of the district Mrs Freeman who told the first year nurse that she must attend lectures on homosexuality and AIDS or leave the job.

Shirley, a dedicated National Front activist for many years told the Authority what to do with their lectures!

The fact that AIDS patients in Twickenham are now being put into General Medical Wards is something that is of concern to all British people.

BRIXTON'S DYING

BUSINESSMEN ARE quitting Brixton because they are unable to get insurance against riot damage.

A packed Lambeth Town Hall meeting of local traders heard that insurance cover had been a problem since last years riots with premiums set impossibly high and many insurance companies refusing to take the risk.

RACISM FOR ROEDEAN GIRLS

THE BIGGEST ever attendence turned out for the Roedean School Political Society on Friday November 7th to hear THE FLAG's Editor Martin Wingfield discuss 'racism' with Winston True of New Direction, a Black Rights organisation.

Each speaker addressed the young ladies from one of Britain's most famous schools for half an hour and this was followed by an hours question time. In a lively, sometimes heated, but always polite debate the history, policies and aims of the National Front were examined in depth together with the 'plight' of Britain's ethnic minorities.

With as many as 30% of the young ladies present from ethnic minorities themselves particular interest was shown in the NF's policy of repatriation and how exactly it would be put into action.

NEW LIGHT

The evening finished with coffee and sandwiches and the two speakers sharing a taxi from the school to Brighton Station to depart for their respective homes in London and Worthing.

In a letter to Mr. Wingfield a week later Anita Gupta, of the Political Society said his talk had ".. made people think about racism in a new light" and was "..an interesting chance for us all to understand National Front policy".

Sunday Lunch

FIFTY-ONE FLAGS were sold at Smithfield Meat Market in twenty minutes on October 30th beating the previous record of 40.

BRIEF

Exposing the terrorists

A MARCH in support of the African National Congress through Birkenhead went off like a damp squib thanks to the efforts of Cheshire and Wirral NF.

Distributing their own leaflet comparing the ANC to the IRA, Organiser Mike Harris and his team of activists informed Saturday morning shoppers exactly what sort of terrorist organisation the march was supporting. It was no wonder when the motley rag-bag crew of ANC supporters came around with their begging bowls they were told exactly where to get off by the people of Birkenhead.

SCHOOLS CAMPAIGN

BIRMINGHAM NF launched a schools campaign during November to warn pupils about left-wing indoctrination.

LAMBETH NF

ON JUNE 30th of this year Barry Freestone, Chairman of Lambeth National Front, was awarded the British Empire Medal for his services, over the last eight years, to Britain's ex-servicemen associations.

He told members of Lambeth National Front at their monthly meeting on Thursday 30th October, that he would be wearing his medal, together with his Queens Silver Jubilee Medal and Northern Ireland Medal on Remembrance Day as, with other ex-servicemen, he leads the National Front's Annual Parade to the Cenotaph.

Ex-servicemen were to the fore at the meeting with Tony Hilton,24, formerly of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders, being adopted as the NF's prospective Parliamentary candidate for Vauxhall.

Although a member of the Front for less than a year, Tony has been a supporter of the Party since his days at school. His path to the National Front was via the Baylis Road Action Group, a local residents association he runs in Waterloo.

HIPPERSON

The strength of Lambeth Branch is its committee. All members, apart from doing their own duties, all join in the four activities a week.

Organiser, Neil Bagnall gave an impressive list of activities in his report. Postering, leafletting, paper sales at Stamford Bridge and East Street market and their door to door sales round which is one of the reasons that Lambeth have gone back to the top of THE FLAG Sales League.

Twenty Five year-old insurance clerk, Martin French, is Lambeth's Secretary and Treasurer. he explained to THE FLAG why the Branch voted to go 'independent' earlier in the year.

"We were having the running of the Branch taken out of our hands, decisions were being made concerning the branch without the committee even being consulted. It was a state of affairs which the local membership just found unacceptable.

"We are very happy with our situation now, there's a renewed keeness and pride within the branch, and, speaking as the Treasurer, of course I'm very happy that Lambeth membership fees are now going to Lambeth Branch funds. It will be a great help towards our campaign in Vauxhall.".

Another ex-serviceman, Chris Bradley is the Branch's Literature Officer. A member since 1976 he attends every local activity while still fulfilling his duties as a single parent.

Brian Murphy makes up the committee having responsibilty for organising leafletting and postering.

A day in the life of....

IT WAS Mary Ashton and Malcolm Ward who were waiting to meet me at Fulham Broadway underground station on Saturday 1st November for my weekend of activity in the Frontline with Lambeth NF.

We were soon joined by Neil Bagnall and Martin French of Lambeth branch and made our way down the Fulham road to sell THE FLAG and Vanguard outside Stamford Bridge the home of Chelsea Football Club.

Co-operation is the key to the success of South London branches such as Lambeth and Wandsworth. Sharing the workload of papersales such as Chelsea and East Street Market has put both branches near the top of the NF literature sales league and it's the sort of co-operation that builds comradeship as well as branch funds.

WRATH OF NOSHER

But our day gets off to a bad start with after just a few minutes selling and only ten papers sold Nosher strikes!

Nosher Richardson is a policeman who doesn't like the NF. Every Saturday when Chelsea are at home he moves our papersellers on. While other officers of varying rank walk past with either a smile or a frown, Nosher gets very upset when he sees the patriotic message of FLAG and Vanguard for sale on the streets.

'Come on move on' he snaps,
'Why?' we ask,
'Obstruction',
'You must be joking', we say pointing to the 15ft of bare pavement between us and the road.
'Right you're under arrest' — It's no nonsense from Nosher and he's on his radio for a police van to take us to Hammersmith Police Station.

Five and a half hours later, and 40p lighter after losing a game of pitch and toss in the cell, I leave police hospitality with my South London colleagues and we make our way to central London for a NF Social Club 'Pub Night' in High Holborn.

REWARDING

It's chilly to say the least at East Street Market 9.00 am on Sunday morning.

Wandsworth Branch are already selling with the help of three Edinburgh members who arrived at the 'Pub Night' the previous evening after transport from London to a Front meeting in Suffolk failed to materialise.

Papersales are without a doubt the most rewarding of NF activities. There is nothing like it to warm you up on a cold Autumn morning; getting our message over to the public and making money for your branch at the same time.

My weekend with Lambeth ended at 11 o'clock that morning and although not the most prosperous weekend for papersales (thanks to Nosher) it was very reassuring.

Reassuring, because Lambeth, a branch with a history of leading the way in National Front activism, was maintaining that tradition under the guidance of a committee that practices what it preaches, and leads from the front!

ATTACKED!

AT MIDDAY on Sunday a dozen Labour Party thugs attacked Neil Bagnall, Tony Hilton and Malcolm Ward with knives and bottles as they sold papers in East Street market.

Despite cuts and bruises all three report they are none the worse for wear and will be back at East Street next Sunday.

30 minute cassette tape: £1.75 including postage.

In 1985 Ian Anderson was invited to London's main news radio station LBC to do a half hour programme. This tape is a record of the first ever radio programme where an NF spokesman had a full half hour interview on his own coupled with questions phoned in by listeners. 'What would you do if your son went out with a Black girl?' 'Why do you hate Black people?'. Why haven't you got people in Parliament?'

If you would like to hear how these questions were answered while thousands listened in then get this cassette tape and find out why Jewish and other groups made vociferous complaints about the programme.

MOSLEM CRUELTY FOR SURREY VILLAGE

by Joe Pearce

MORE THAN half the residents of a Surrey village have signed a 13,000-name petition against a local abattoir's plans for Moslem ritual slaughter.

Feeling is running so high in the village of Walton-on-the-Hill that men from the slaughterhouse allege they have been attacked in the street.

The petition was drawn up by local RSPCA member Mrs Dorothy Hawkins after residents saw Bells Abattoir in the High Street take delivery of a Moslem slaughter 'barrel'. This turns cattle upside-down facing Mecca while their throats are cut without the conventional British Slaughter Method of stunning them first.

■ Ritual Slaughter. Sickening barbaric cruelty

The residents' petition is being sent to the Ministry of Agriculture, who appear to be more worried about upsetting Moslem religious leaders than listening to the views of the villagers even though a report by its farm animal welfare council heavily criticised the Moslem method of ritual slaughter.

IGNORED

The RSPCA has already called for Moslem ritual slaughter to be banned in Great Britain but they too appear to be ignored by a government more concerned with community relations than cruelty to animals.

Mrs Hawkins, undaunted by government indifference to her petition, aired her anger openly: "People queued to sign the petition. We don't want this sort of cruelty in the midst of our village."

The NF's attitude was summed up by former Party chairman Andrew Brons: "Mrs Hawkins is to be applauded for her stand against ritual slaughter in Walton-on-the-Hill. However, not only do we not want this sort of cruelty in the midst of that one village, we don't want this sort of cruelty in the midst of our country!"

The Pudsey Veterans' Shelter is a small detached bungalow with a snooker table and other facilities that provides a vital meeting place for war veterans, many of whom have lost their partners and need to meet other people for a chat.

The veterans of two world wars who use the shelter, some of them over 80 and disabled, are collecting signatures for a petition against the council's plan and preparing to mount a 24 hour Home Guard to protect their shelter.

Can you imagine the outcry if Leeds Council attempted to bulldoze down an Afro-Caribbean or Asian Club!

FISHING INDUSTRY UNDER ATTACK

■Whitby: Fighting for its livelihood.

FRENCH VESSELS trawling off Newquay are threatening the livelihood of Cornish Fishermen by trawling away their fishing tackle, pots and nets.

From the harbour's 18 boats, £30,000 worth of tackle has been lost as French boats ignore marker buoys and cut through nets.

Local Skipper, Frank Dungey said 'We know these boats are from Cherbourg. They know where we are fishing but ignore all the signs'.

At a meeting in Newquay a spokesman from the Ministry of Agriculture tried to placate the fishermen by reading out the EEC rules on trawling, but he was shouted down and the EEC regulations called 'Bullshit'.

The Cornish Fishermen are determined to protect their livlihoods even if it means taking the law into their own hands when the authorities fail to act.

The National Front pledges, not only to protect the British Fishing Industry by securing properly patrolled fishing zones, but also to insure the growth of the industry by introducing adequate 'British Only ' fishing limits around our islands.

EDITORIAL No.4 December 1986

National Front: The Time is NOW!

ON THE EVENING of August 9th this year, television viewers saw a programme called 'Twenty Years On' publish a Gallup Poll of the British peoples' opinion on Immigration and Repatriation.

It was the largest poll ever conducted in this country on the Race Issue and the findings revealed that.....

51% of those interviewed supported repatriation.
80% said racial tension had increased
20% admitted to racial prejudice
60% said that racial prejudice had increased
65% said 'We are in danger of being swamped'
58% believed that Britain had been harmed by coloured immigration

Earlier in the year a broader survey in the New Statesman magazine on more varied topics came to the conclusion that the only way the British people could achieve their political goals was to VOTE NATIONAL FRONT".

These findings are good news for the National Front, and no doubt the opinions expressed earlier in the year will have hardened with the Heathrow visa chaos and the riot in Bristol this autumn.

IN FROM THE SHADOWS

In fact there has never been a better time for the National Front to establish itself in British politics. The next 12 months offers the Front the chance to walk in from the shadows of fringe politics into the glare of the real political arena, and that is something that every NF member should welcome. For our party has nothing to hide. Over the last nineteen years we have continually warned the British people of the consequences of the policies of successive Tory and Labour governments. Everything we have forecast has come true. Gradually the British people are coming to realise that fact and, despite more than a decade of media brainwashing, are now prepared to stand up and say so.

LAYING THE FOUNDATIONS

Never has the need for the National Front to put together an effective General Election campaign been so great. From now until Christmas must see NF branches laying the foundations for that General Election effort by adopting candidates, raising funds and planning campaigns. It is not going to be easy and much work lies ahead. Whether NF branches can meet this challenge depends on members and supporters rallying around and helping their committee.

The future of the National Front and that of Britain lies in the hands of National Front members and supporters up and down the country. Make sure YOU play your part. Get in contact with your local branch TODAY and give them all the help you can in their General Election campaign.

THE WHOLE WORLD IS HIS CONSTITUENCY

THE ARREST IN India, recently, of a Sikh woman under the Indian Government's Anti-Terrorist Act, reverberated around the world.

These reverberations were particularly severe in Britain where the Tory party's seismograph registered 6 on the Richter Scale and the shock waves made Mr. Terry Dicks M.P. ring like an alarm bell.

For Terry Dicks is the Tory M.P. for Hayes and Harlington, deep in the heart of the Thames Valley chupati belt, and the aforesaid Sikh woman, Mrs Kuldip Kaur, is a denizen thereof. So sick at heart was Mr. Dicks when he heard the dread news; so overwhelmed with compassion, that he abandoned his parliamentary duties — yes, even with a General Election in the offing — and flew off to India to stand up for the traditional British rights of his culture-enriching constituent.

DODGY MAJORITY

Of course the impulsive Dicks gave not a thought to the fact that Mrs Kaur is the wife of Mr.Paul Bedi, Chairman of the Anglo-Asian Conservative Society. I doubt if the thought of his dodgy majority in the chupati belt crossed his mind for an instant. Dicks simply throbbed with a burning desire for truth and justice that sent him hotfoot to Heathrow.

If the Labour Party manage to overthrow the will of the British people by capturing the sooty vote, it will most certainly not be the fault of Terry Dicks.

Yet it's a strange thing that Mr. Dick's heart should bleed so copiously for Mrs Kuldip Kaur, in prison for a couple of days, and, as far as I know, not a single drop for the British citizens imprisoned without trial in Zimbabwe for more than two years.

Despite the fact that prison conditions in Sambobwe are probably far worse than those in semi-civilised India, Mr. Dicks has not hared away to Harare nor, to my knowledge, has any other Tory patriot. The British prisoners in Sambobwe are, of course, White.

DROP OF A TURBAN

The trouble is, you see, that the black vote or the Asian vote is a nice handy block vote, ripe for the plucking. The British vote, however, is divided between political ignoramuses on the right and political know-nothings on the left whose only choice is between M.P.'s who fly off to India at the drop of a hat and M.P.'s who would fly half the population of India here at the drop of a turban.

So all that M.P.'s of all parties will offer the British prisoners in Sambobwe is a two fingered gesture of condolence and the encouraging words, "Hard luck, Whitey!".

Fitting Emblem

I SEE THAT the approach of Remembrance Day this year resulted in the red Flanders poppy, symbol of the nation's war dead, being eschewed by the lefties in favour of the white poppy which, the foul wretches claim, is the symbol of peace. Strange, is it not, when they usually prefer red with everything?.

Strange too, to see white poppies sprouting from the lapels of every species of commie for, as we botanists well know, flowers don't grow on slag heaps.

OLD RED TOMATO

But the white poppy is apparently now de rigueur on the far left side of decency since it was popularised by Neil Kinnock's strident old red tomato Glynis. She claims that what most people regard as a calculated insult to the glorious dead is justified because "they died for peace".

Did they indeed? If she were less ignorant of the motivation of ordinary decent Britons, she would know that they died for their country out of simple innate patriotism — a rare quality in the circles she moves. If their sacrifice brought peace, that was their bonus, not their purpose.

BLIND MIND

Yet, in a quite significant way, the white poppy is relevant. For it is the symbol of the blind mind — of numb hallucination — and suits the lefties far better than they realise.

For the white poppy is the opium poppy — a fitting emblem for dopes!.

ABORTION IS MURDER

REPEAL THE ABORTION ACT!

■10 weeks: The Unborn Child.

ONE IN ten of all girls having their fifteenth birthday in 1986 will have had an abortion by their 20th birthday.

These shocking figures released by the Brook Advisory Centre, which provides contraceptive and counselling services for young people, revealed that in 1984 there were 4,158 abortions performed on girls under 16 and in the same year 33,414 performed on those between 16-19.

It is a fact that when a human sperm fertilizes a human egg a new human being comes into existence. The documentary film of an abortion The Silent Scream clearly shows the unborn child's desperate attempt to escape its destruction by the suction curette used in abortions.

There are few medical reasons for abortions, most are economic or marital. Many pregnancies are preventable and a lot of abortions are the result of promiscuity.

Abortion is murder. Repeal the Abortion Act!

MOTOR CYCLE INDUSTRY FIGHTS BACK FOR BRITAIN

THE BRITISH motor cycle industry is fighting back and winning orders in both home and overseas markets.

Matchless, Triumph, Norton and Armstrong are now restoring the British reputation for tough, reliable, precision-made machines.

Devon-based Les Harris has pioneered the way back for road bikes with his 750cc Triumph Bonneville built in traditional styling.

BSA is making big inroads into the 125cc and 80cc moped markets, while Norton is making an all-British bike which has been taken up by Police forces throughout the country.

The best British success story is, however, that of the Bolton-based Armstrong company. This firm has penetrated the United States and Canadian markets with its precision models and has won a £5 million order from the British Army

A-FINE-EXAMPLE-OF BRITISH-SHIPBUILDING

'GOVAN SHIPBUILDERS are aiming to re-establish themselves as the premier shipbuilding yard in the UK'.

That was the verdict of the workforce of the Glasgow yard after the launch of the cruise ferry Norsea, the most technically - sophisticated merchant vessel to be built at the yard in its 52 year history.

Norsea will be operated by North Sea Ferries on its Hull-Rotterdam route starting next summer. It's the largest passenger freight ferry ordered for a service sailing from Britain, and is also the largest passenger carrying vessel built in the United Kingdom since the launch of the Queen Elizabeth II 19 years ago.

■Norsea: A fine achievement.

Working for Foreign Firms

THE WESTLAND Affair and the Government's plans for selling Austin Rover to Ford and Leyland Trucks together with Land Rover to General Motors have aroused interest in the extent of foreign ownership of British manufacturing industries.

Although the latest figures available only relate to 1982 even then they made very grim reading.

The number of British employees in foreign-owned manufacturing firms was 750,000(16.2%). Thus in 1982 one in every six employees in British-based manufacturing was working for a foreign multi-national company.

The figures for 1986 are probably a whole lot worse.

NF Cover-up

MARGARET Thatcher's Government is covering up the involvement of the National Front in soccer violence.

That's according to the Moscow monthly Soviet Sport. The magazine goes on to praise the BBC for exposing the Government's collusion with the NF in 'attempting to draw back the curtain of silence with which Britain is covering up football hooliganism predominantly carried out by members of the National Front'.

Um..PASS!

The credentials of some of the Representatives elected to the Senate last month were shockingly exposed in a television programme.

Before the election, 19 would-be Representatives were asked five simple questions. None of them got them all right.

As camera crews, technicians and interviewers alike watched in disbelief as the country's future rulers were stumped by the simple question 'Who is the prime minister of Israel', the candidates demanded the cameras be turned off arguing that 'silly words games were irrelevant to the qualifications of being a senator'.

White Pearls

In Hong Kong they have no worries about Race Relations!

One of the most popular brands of tooth-paste is Darkie which really gets your teeth whiter!

Coloured?

Manchester's Evening News carried an account last month of a bungled bank raid in the city in which three raiders stole an empty cash box and then drove their getaway car into the back of a corporation bus.

After the accident they ran off and, while trying to open the cash box were sprayed with an orange dye. The paper reported, "Polic were today seeking three coloured men".

Still Waiting

Eighty families in Pickering are still awaiting compensation from British Gas after an explosion destroyed three houses and damaged 80 more in 1979.

It must be particularly upsetting for these families to hear that while they still await settlement, Larry Hagman, better known as J.R. in Dallas, is being paid £250,000 to advertise the sell-off of British Gas.

Racists!

Despite the fact that the Black and White Minstrel Show drew audiences of 18 million during its 21 years of peak-time viewing the BBC showed just a 15 second clip in its celebration of 50 years of TV.

A BBC spokesman said 'The show which began in 1957 was incredibly popular, but it was regarded in the end as racist and patronising so it had to go. It has been decided that it would still be regarded as offensive today'

Planners 'con' the public

DECEIT WILL COST LIVES

by Ian Anderson

MARGARET THATCHER FINALLY opened the last stretch of the London Orbital Road, the M25, on 29th October, yet even the opening of this last section was delayed as a result of a faulty viaduct.

The M25 should have been the transport success of the decade linking the various motorways which enter London and taking traffic out of the centre.

It is an undeniable improvement, but the building of the 120 mile orbital road has been botched from start to finish. Right from the beginning in 1975 there has been incompetence and/or deceit involved in its planning and building. When the series of public meetings were being held to hear objections the Ministry of Transport used deliberately low traffic estimates to fend off opposition from environmentalists.

Having saddled themselves with these deliberately low figures the planners couldn't then design a motorway for the real volume of traffic expected without admitting this piece of deceit.

It is generally accepted that the maximum safe daily traffic flow on a three lane motorway is between 75,000 and 80,000 vehicles. In June official statistics showed that on six sections of the motorway traffic amounted to more than 90,000 vehicles a day, reaching a peak of upto 114,000 vehicles on one section between the M3 and Heathrow Airport.

On top of all this there is not a single service station on the entire length of the motorway. But perhaps the grossest stupidity of all is the Dartford Toll Tunnel. The normal but inadequate three lanes become reduced to two lanes each way and all vehicles are required to stop to pay a toll. Even the number of toll booths was only increased after the traffic volume had built up after a period of months when nearby sections of the motorway were completed.

ACCIDENTS

Clearly London needs the M25, but a proper M25 — 4 lanes, service stations, no unnecessary hold-ups. Instead we have a 'botched job' which will, no doubt, have to be improved to four lanes later, not only at a large financial cost but at a large cost in lives. It has been shown that the frequency of motor accidents increases dramatically at the sites of road works and lane closures.

MORE NF GROWTH IN WEST MIDLANDS

THE NATIONAL Front just keeps on growing and growing in the West Midlands.

This photograph shows the first papersale by Brierly Hill NF, the newest National Front group in the West Midlands.

Over forty-five copies of The Flag and NF News were sold, hundreds of leaflets were handed out and response was so good that two people joined up there and then.

Local members then joined with members from Birmingham with the intention of holding a street demonstration but the police refused them permission. Nevertheless, and not to be outdone, an application was made for a future date and the West Midlands region of the National Front are thinking of holding a march through the area in the New Year.

The activities of Brierly Hill NF provide even more proof that the West Midlands is one of the Party's best growth areas.

FRONT AID HELPS FAMILIES

FRONT AID, the NF's campaign to help Britons in need made its first contribution last month.

£33.47 was handed over to the residents association collecting for the families of the two young girls brutally murdered in Brighton's Wild Park.

A spokesman for the association, thanking the Brighton Branch of the National Front who had made the collection, said the murders re-affirmed peoples' belief in the area that the only way to deal with such killers is to hang them, a policy which out of all political parties only the National Front supports.

EXOTIC COCKTAILS at 3 o'clock in the morning was how a National Front Social Club evening in Birmingham finished up.

A mini-bus full of London members travelled to Birmingham for a night out with the local branch. The venue for the evening was a top Birmingham Night Club where the owner is a dedicated National Front supporter. Joe Pearce, who travelled up with the mini-bus received the warmest of welcomes at the club where management and bouncers alike came out to welcome the Front contingent.

DETERMINATION AND TRUE GRIT

by Dean Thomas

IT HAS been a long time since James Hunt won the Formula One World Championship for Britain, but this year our hopes lay with Nigel Mansell.

Mansell, who had graduated through F3, showed what he was made of when he squeezed third place in his Lotus at Brands Hatch in 1981. Since then he has developed into a polished performer.

Colin Chapman was one of the first to have seen Mansell's determination and signed him up to drive for his black and gold racing team of Lotus.

Mansell stayed with Lotus until he was replaced by a Brazilian Ayrton Senna. It is a sad fact in Motor Racing that sponsors can dictate to teams what drivers they want to drive, as was seen again this year when Johnny Dumfries lost his drive for Lotus to a Japanese.

At the start of the 1985 season Mansell was to drive for the very successful British team Williams, teaming up with Keke Rosberg the Finnish World Champion. Mansell got straight down to business and by the end of that season was winning Grand Prixs.

■Mansell: The best driver on the circuit

This year his determination and true grit showed through when he was arguably the best driver on the circuit, only to be let down on many occasions by his Japanese engine He lost the Championship to Alain Prost driving a McClaren (a British car) by two points, when during the Australian Grand Prix his rear (American) tyre exploded at 180 MPH.

In Motor Racing where excellence counts the British are on top. We have proved that we can build the best cars, we have the best drivers, we have, in the past, built the best engines and made the best tyres. Why can't we put all four together and be a purely British team?

RETURN TO SPORT FOR THE SAKE OF SPORT

■Samaranch

■Havelange

■Nebiolo

BIRMINGHAM SHOULD be very proud of its work in attempting to gain the 1922 Olympics, looked at on merit, they offered a very real bid to stage these games.

However, what perhaps they should have known is that they never stood a chance in the first place.

Sport is now a political football controlled by people who once upon a time had a sporting career, but who have long since become political 'aparatchiks'.

These inlude such people as Joao Havelange of Brazil, 70 year-old president of FIFA; he was an olympic swimmer over half a century ago; 63 year-old Primo Nebiolo, an Italian lawyer and president of the International Amateur Athletic Federation amongst other posts; Juan Antonio Samaranch, a Spanish industrialist and one time Ambassador to Moscow who is President of the International Olympic Committee.

The people who administer a sport should be drawn from the ranks of current or recently active sportsmen — not from politicians, lawyers and diplomats who back in the mists of time had a sporting connection. Then perhaps we could get rid of boycotts, bans, political withdrawals and return to sport for the sake of sport to the benefit of both sportsmen and spectators.

A MAN OF COURAGE

Jonjo O'Neill

NO ONE who has seen the film 'Champions' could fail to have been moved by the battle for life waged by National Hunt jockey Bob Champion.

Now, another jump jockey, Jonjo O'Neill is fighting for his life, battling against cancer of the lymph glands.

Receiving the same chemotherapy treatment as Bob Champion, Jonjo visits Christie's Hospital in Manchester every three weeks. His appearance at Carlisle races at the back-end of November show that, just as when he was a jockey, Jonjo is never ready to give up.

It seems a cruel irony that jump jockeys who risk so much injury during their chosen occupation should have to face such suffering in retirement. The spirit of men like Jonjo O'Neill and Bob Champion is an example to us all.

POLITICS IS NOT CRICKET

GRAHAM DILLEY and Chris Broad, two England cricketers currently touring Australia, have been put on the United Nations blacklist of sportsmen. Also included are 19 British anglers who have competed in South Africa.

As a result the cricketers may be banned from the 1987 Cricket World Cup which is to be played in India. If these players are banned then our teams will effectively be chosen on the basis of political convictions of sportsmen not on merit. Under such circumstances we trust and expect every other British cricketer will refuse to take part in such politically restricted sports events.

SINKING OUT OF SIGHT

by Ian Anderson

BRITAIN WAS well and truly thrashed by the United States in the Womens' tennis Wightman Cup at the end of October. Although this was not altogether a surprise as the United States has a population four times the size of Britain, it's still a bit of a disgrace when it's realised that the U.S. fielded what amounted to a reserve side.

But what is surely ridiculous is that Britain is so short of young tennis talent that 41 year-old, semi-retired Virginia Wade was forced to act as fifth member of the team — first reserve.

Now Virginia Wade has earned our respect through her tennis achievements, but it is absurd that Britain should be forced to rely on her for a major tennis competition.

In fact British tennis is currently at its lowest ever. In July our men lost the Davis Cup tie to Australia without winning a set. In 1980 a government-appointed committee of inquiry produced a damning report on the state of British tennis, yet despite a lot of talk, the Lawn Tennis Association has done precious little to improve the state of the game.

Television coverage isn't helping much either, while Wimbledon gains massive coverage many other tournaments with largely British competitors are largely ignored.

The L.T.A. must take responsibility for this appalling failure to encourage our youngsters to engage in and excel at this sport.

As The Times recently reported,

"The LTA may kid themselves that exciting things are happening or are about to happen. But passengers on the Titanic presumably felt the same way!".
